There are a large number of articles that link with being online.

This assembly's activities have a particular focus on Article 19, the right to protection from harm, Article 17, the right to reliable information and Article 34, protection from exploitation.

Article 17, Access to information from the media

Every child has the right to reliable information from a variety of sources and governments should encourage the media to provide information that children can understand. Governments must help protect children from materials that could harm them.

Article 19, Protection from violence, abuse and neglect

Governments must do all they can to ensure that children are protected from all forms of violence, abuse, neglect and bad treatment by their parents or anyone else who looks after them.

EXPLORING SAFER INTERNET DAY

What do you feel are some of the great things about the internet and life online?

What don't you like about the internet and life online?

EXPLORING SAFER INTERNET DAY

Great things ...

- You can find out lots of information quickly and easily.
- You can connect with your friends even if you can't meet face-to-face.
- Learning is possible even if you haven't got books at home or access to a library.
- There are lots of fun games and activities to do online.
- You can keep in touch with family and friends who live far away.
- It can increase equality and democracy because more people can have their voices heard.
- You can shop and bank online which is good for people who are busy, not near the shops or have mobility issues.
- You can visit places remotely that you can't get to in person.
- It helps you find places in the car and people you want to contact with.

I don't like it when ...

- People don't respect each other and make unkind comments.
- Children use it to bully other children.
- People's right to privacy is not always respected.
- Some information is not reliable and there is a lot of fake news.
- People are sometimes tricked out of money and savings.
- Companies and businesses are hacked and your information can be shared without your consent.
- I spend too much time online instead of doing other things.
- People make fun of others because they don't have the latest technology.

Did you think of any other reasons?

Your right to be safe and protected is always important, including when you use computers, phones and the internet.

Can you think of three top tips for staying safe online?

REFLECTION

Thinking about our lives online:

- How can we make sure that the internet is a good place to talk?
- What changes need to be made and who would you talk to if you had concerns about your own online life or someone else's?

The Safer Internet Day poem

Going online can be so much fun,
You can play, and chat, and find out.
But when things change and you feel unsure,
Then that's when it's time to shout...
"Something has changed, and I need some help,
What's happening doesn't feel good."
Things will get better when a trusted adult knows,
And your feelings have been understood.
